

MALE FOREWORD

I love authors who challenge our long-held beliefs no matter what they may be. Linda Marks is one of those special people. She is about to challenge your long-held beliefs about what you think you know about yourself and other human beings. She will offer you the opportunity to try on a new pair of eyes that will see through even lead-lined garbage that has been ruining millions of lives since the beginning of time. As a matter of fact, be prepared to be gently turned inside-out in a very thrilling exploration of your mind, heart, body and soul.

The minute I read the first page of Linda's manuscript, "I was hooked." I hope the same will happen to you.

Did you even realize that there was a war going on between the genders?

Now I consider myself a fairly intelligent human being. After all, I even have a doctorate in human sexuality and I've been leading workshops on Love, Intimacy and Sexuality for the past 35 years. I even started the first psychologically-oriented telephone talk-back radio show. And guess what? I did not know that there was a war going on between the genders. Skirmishes, yes. Battles, yes. All out war, never. Thank you, Linda. I can now see and hear that war very clearly.

So, you see, what Linda is shining her spotlight of truth on pretty much equals what Louis Pasteur discovered with microbes and bacteria.

Microbes, bacteria and gender have been in our face, so to speak, since the beginning of time. We just haven't been able to see them without the proper tools and inquiry.

Now, that the "lens of the soul" has been given to us and the map charted, so we know where and what to look for, a new era is being born.

Welcome to the era of the heart and soul. Welcome to the era where the head is used in the service of heart and soul and not as a divider or conqueror.

Welcome to an era where we consider each person's gender identity uniquely theirs, where we never ostracize anyone because of their gender orientation or preference. Welcome to a world where everyone relates soul to soul. Welcome to the world of Linda Marks. Enjoy!

— Stan Dale
Foster City, CA July 2003